ROCK EAGLE HIKE PRE-POST TRIP ACTIVITIES

Creating Monuments

Have each student construct their own monument. It should be made to represent something significant or important to the student. Students can prepare oral presentation to explain how their monument represents them. (The effigy should be a collection of materials. For example a student who loves to fish should not bring in a fishing pole, instead they could objects placed together to make a fishing pole or a fish.) This could also be a school wide project. Each class planning to come to Rock Eagle could construct their own monument. Classes could all place their monuments on display with a short written explanation on the significance.
